

Self reflection

I was so excited about this trip and now I feel myself very happy that I'm a part of a great group. In this two weeks I've got so many friends from so many different culture and country. I've learnt a lot of things about these countries. It was so interesting to hear how the education going on in Lithuania, Portugal Nederland, Germany, Spain, Denmark and Belgium.

I already learnt how important to keep up imagining as a kindergarden teacher. I think if I really want to be a good teacher I must be creative. That's very important! In this weeks I felt myself a child again. It was so good because I nearly forget it how great when you are imagining a lot. It was so good to spent lot of times in the forest to make landscape, hunting treasures, make some instrumental with different kind of natural material. I was so happy when one of the teacher mentioned Kodály Zoltán who invented the Kodaly method. I was so proud of my country. I think its very important to find our connection with the nature. I learnt about these things a lot.

For example if there is no nature there is no life. The nature is around us and we have to teach this to the children aswell. If they can feel it, if they can see it, if they can discover it they will be more intrested about taking care of it!

They should know it how things going on around us.

If you can introduce the nature with member of the forest they will be so excited about it. We created Luis for them and they were so happy to see him. Luis was made by different kind of natural materials. Everybody from the kindergarden loved him. I' m very happy because I tried to speak with the children and they understood me. Sometimes I just used body language but I learnt so many words in french so I would be available to say them: C'est jolie! ☺ I learnt some other words too of course. I learnt some lithuanian, some flamish, some danish, some portugese and some german too. Last night I danced as a spanish flamenco dancer. Everybody looked like a spanish people. I tasted so many kind of different meals. I've got so many friends who are the same like me. And the best part is... that everybody who is here will be a great teacher because they are amazing persons... all of them! We were a great group we laughed a lot, we discovered a lot (for example: how important the nature, how exciting to come from a different country, how important the different kind of competences... etc.) For me the most important to keep going on imagining, be creative, be friendly, use body language, let the children imagining. Today was the last day of the kindergarden. It was so good because here in this programm there were 6 different group which worked in the same time but with different kind of activities. Today the B1 group showed us what did they do with the children last day. They were so creative just like the children. They can't stop the story telling it was amazing to see little kids imagining. „Maybe this is the skin of the monster.“ They said it when they saw some frog eggs floating into the water. I learnt something important! Not to destroy imagination... I was very happy because all of the children understood me in english because of my body language. Sometimes I used body language too when I spoke with somebody from here. It was really good to learn a lot of new english words, to understand the others from other culture but luckily there was not many differences between us. It was good to work together. I enjoyed it very much.
