

Personal reflection

I'm really grateful for destiny, that I had an opportunity to participate in this project. It was two amazing weeks, which I spent with really great teachers and students from all over the world.

Each lecture we had, gave a lot of new and really great ideas, it made me more professional. I have learned that by using such simple things like paper, branches, stones and etc. we can teach children to feel beauty of the nature, its sounds, our connection with the nature. The idea of tool box is really great.

I'm really looking forward to come back to Lithuania, to the kindergarten I work in with the children, show them all new games I have learned in Belgium from really professional teachers in those two weeks. I think, working in a team like that made me more professional in my specialty.

Second thing I really liked is working in groups. I was in a group C2. People from different cultures, different ages had an opportunity to say their own opinion about education in kindergarten. After discussions we try to find the best solution, which exercise fits the best for children. It was amazing. no matter where you are from, which language you speak – the most important thing is to find the best way to introduce children to the world, to show the beauty of the nature. That's what we had learned all these two weeks.

We lived together with different cultures in one building, and it was so nice, that everybody was so friendly and helpful with keeping on the rules to make our routine better.

Each evening we watch presentations from different countries, we also tasted traditional meals from different countries, it was intercultural exchanging by getting to know each other's culture. We shared information. It's really important to get to know other cultures, especially when you live in such a global world. So, I got to know not only the culture, but also how kindergarten teachers work in different countries, also I understood how the education system differs from country to country. It was really interesting to hear and to compare with my own country.

This project is really important for me on a personal level. Here I met really great people from different countries. I had an opportunity to participate in lectures, given by really professional lecturers, to learn how to arrange different activities. I heard a lot of new crazy ideas, which I believe I can use back home. I found many friends. By communicating with other students I improved my English. In the future I would like to learn French too 😊.

This project made me more self-confident, self-sufficient, I understood, that each idea is a treasure and I learned how to express my minds better.

Thanks for all organization, which made this project really. Its amazing opportunity to be surrounded inspiring people. What I have learned I have heard changed my life made me stronger as human being and as a professional. THANK YOU!!!!!!!!!!
