

Personal–reflection

I am a third year kindergarten teacher student at the Apor Vilmos Catholic College in Vác in Hungary. When I heard about the Intensive program in Barcelona I knew that I would like to participated in.

My personal reflection about this program that it was a really intensive program with a lot of useful and interesting practical and theory educatinal things.

Personal development

My personal development was that I learned a lot of new and interesting games, I worked in groups which developed a lot of things like get to know each others, recognized and accepted the differences, and learn to collaborate. We made activities for the children, and these lessons plans was useful because we can use for it in our works.

Also during the program my personal development was progressed, because I worked in groups, I communicated and listened the lectures in foreign language in english, so my language skills were developed day by day.

Intercultural experience

My intercultural experience was that I listened to the lectures about different kinds of countries' culture, and during the two weeks I got to know educational systems of each of the countries. With the group we visited a kindergarten in Barcelona and worked with the children. It was really interesting and instructive for me to see a kindergarten in Barcelona. Barcelona is an amazing place, in the weekend I explored and discovered the main attractions of the city.

Professional development

My professional development was that this program would complement my educational training with important pedagogical knowledge which I could benefit from when I start to work with children in Hungary.

For me this program was an unforgettable and also highly beneficial experience during these two weeks in Barcelona.

Thanks that I could attend to it!
